

Grammaire: l'Objet Direct

The direct object refers to the noun that receives the action of a verb. You can identify it by asking yourself who or what receives the action. It can be replaced by a direct object pronoun to avoid repetition. In French, the direct object pronoun precedes the verb.

Example:

I watch the movie. Je regarde le film.

I watch it. Je le regarde.

Singular	plural
1st person me / m' me	nous us
2nd person te / t' you	vous you
3rd person le / l' him, it la / l' her, it	les them

Exercise 3: Fill in with the appropriate direct object pronoun.

1. Il (them) _____ adore.
2. Je (you) _____ encourage à venir.
3. Nous (you all) _____ aimons.
4. Elles (her) _____ écoute toujours.
5. Tu (us) _____ invites à ton mariage?
6. Elle (me) _____ déteste!
7. Je (them) _____ prends avec moi.
