

Grammaire: l'Objet Direct

The direct object refers to the noun that receives the action of a verb. You can identify it by asking yourself who or what receives the action. It can be replaced by a direct object pronoun to avoid repetition. In French, the direct object pronoun precedes the verb.

Example:

I watch the movie. Je regarde le film.

I watch it. Je le regarde.

1st person	Singular me / m' me	plural nous us
2nd person	te / t' you	vous you
3rd person	le / l' him, it la / l' her, it	les them

Exercise 3: Fill in with the appropriate direct object pronoun.

- Il (them) _____ adore.
- Je (you) _____ encourage à venir.
- Nous (you all) _____ aimons.
- Elles (her) _____ écoute toujours.
- Tu (us) _____ invites à ton mariage?
- Elle (me) _____ détèste!
- Je (them) _____ prends avec moi.
